Education

Coursera | Louisville, KY Python | 12/2023 Python and SQLite

Code: You | Louisville, KY Data Analysis

I'm currently enrolled in code: YOU for Data Analysis pathway. I want to start a new career in programming and I am very determined to succeed getting my foot in this business and try to put my work for a better future. I am ambitious, hard working, detail oriented.

Business Administration | Timisoara, TM Management

I studied for two years and a half management in Romania. I didn't graduate because I had the opportunity to come to the US. During college, I participated in International projects with the school and also in a non-profit student organization called AIESEC. I learned a lot of skills like team work, team management, time management and many other skills.
